

Energy Sort Analysis

Look around the room and choose an image that appeared in more than one category during our energy sort. (Example, a lit match has been posted in the thermal category AND the Radiant Category). Use your knowledge of energy types to justify why your peers were not unanimous* in their thinking about that particular image. Try to trace the logic that would allow the image you selected to correctly fit into multiple categories. Use the BAM.

Unanimous-agreed on by everyone*

Which image did you select?

What categories does it appear in?