Recently, we've discussed whether or not fire is a living thing. We have realized that fire may have the potential to fit into either category: Living or Non-living. Now that you have had time to think over all of the ideas presented in class, use the space below to share your opinion: Is fire alive or not? How can you be so sure?

Write 3 paragraphs:

In paragraph 1: Explain why you think fire is or is not alive

In paragraph 2: Explain why someone else might think the opposite is true

In paragraph 3: Explain what scientific evidence there is to justify your beliefs and disprove the opposite argument using the qualities ALL living things must have in common.
